Energy Codes 2007 Training

July 27, 2007
NO REGISTRATION FEE
Sheraton Station Square Hotel, Pittsburgh, PA

Overview of How to Use RES*check* and Residential Energy Code Enforcement – Lessons From the Field

Schedule:

8:00 am - 9:30 am Overview of How to Use RES*check

Content: This session will include an overview on how to use RES*check* code compliance software, a case study approach including construction drawings, documentation of the compliance certificates and inspection checklists.

Speakers: Pam Cole and Rosemarie Bartlett, PNNL

10:00 am - 4:00 pm Residential Energy Code Enforcement - Lessons From the Field

Content: This session will be useful to both code officials and builders who are trying to implement the new residential energy code requirements. It will highlight recent lessons learned from the field in Pennsylvania, including pictures of residential energy code compliance across a broad spectrum. Common challenges for compliance and obstacles to enforcement will be discussed as well as effective ways to conduct plan reviews and residential energy inspections.

Speakers: Bob Buddenbohm, Pennsylvania Association of Building Code Officials, Inc.
Mark Fortney and Mike Turns, Pennsylvania Housing Research Center

Continuing Education and Learning Units

AIA/CES Learning Units (HSW) (7.0 LUs) and ICC Continuing Education Credits (.70 CEUs) toward renewal of an ICC certification. Certificates of completion will also be offered.

Don't Wait - Register Now!

http://www.energycodes.gov/news/ecodes2007/registration.stm

Contact: Pam Cole – 509-375-6787 or pam.cole@pnl.gov

U.S. Department of Energy
Building Energy Codes